Program Mission Statement

Defining the intent and direction of the program

The mission of Sulphur Springs ISD School Counseling Program is to provide a proactive, comprehensive, and developmentally appropriate program which addresses students' academic and career goals in addition to supporting their personal and social needs. We provide students with the skills that will prepare them to adapt and excel in a fast-changing world, enabling them to lead productive lives. The district shares with parents and the community the responsibility of promoting high standards and expectations as we provide opportunities for all students within our diverse community to attain personal growth and to become lifelong learners.

Program Definitions

Defining program parameters

The school counselor's primary focus is to facilitate instruction by removing impediments to student learning. A comprehensive school counseling program is developmental and systemic in nature, sequential, clearly defined, and accountable. It is implemented by certified school counselors with the support of teachers, administrators, students, and parents. The identified needs of all students in PK-12 provide the basis for the developmental counseling program. As required by Texas Education Code §33.005, the counseling program is presented through four delivery components.

Guidance Curriculum:

- Helps students develop their full potential including the student's interests and career objectives

Individual Planning System:

- Guides a student as the student plans, monitors, and manages the student's own educational, career personal, and social development

Responsive Services:

- Intervenes on behalf of any student whose immediate personal concerns or problems put the student's continued educational, career, personal, or social development at risk

System Support:

- Supports the efforts of teachers, staff, parents, and other members of the community in promoting the educational, career, personal, and social development of students

As described in The Texas Model for Comprehensive School Counseling Programs, 5th ed. (2018), the counseling program curriculum is designed to help students acquire age-appropriate competencies with the scope of four content areas, The student competencies addressed under each of the four content areas are listed below.

Content Area: Intrapersonal Effectiveness:

Student Competencies:

- Positive student self-concept
- Effective executive functioning skills
- Appropriate behavior to the situation and environment

Content Area: Interpersonal Effectiveness:

Student Competencies:

- Effective interactions with diverse populations
- Effective and appropriate communication skills
- Recognition of personal boundaries, individual rights and privacy needs of others
- Effective conflict resolution skills
- Development of healthy relationships

Content Area: Post-secondary Planning & Career Readiness:

Student Competencies:

- Motivation to succeed in personal endeavors
- Demonstration of career exploration skills
- Possession of the knowledge and skills to gather information for the purpose of postsecondary education and career planning
- Demonstration of awareness of the importance of postsecondary education

- Understanding of the relationship of academics to the world of work and to life at home and in the community

Content Area: Personal Health & Safety:

Student Competencies:

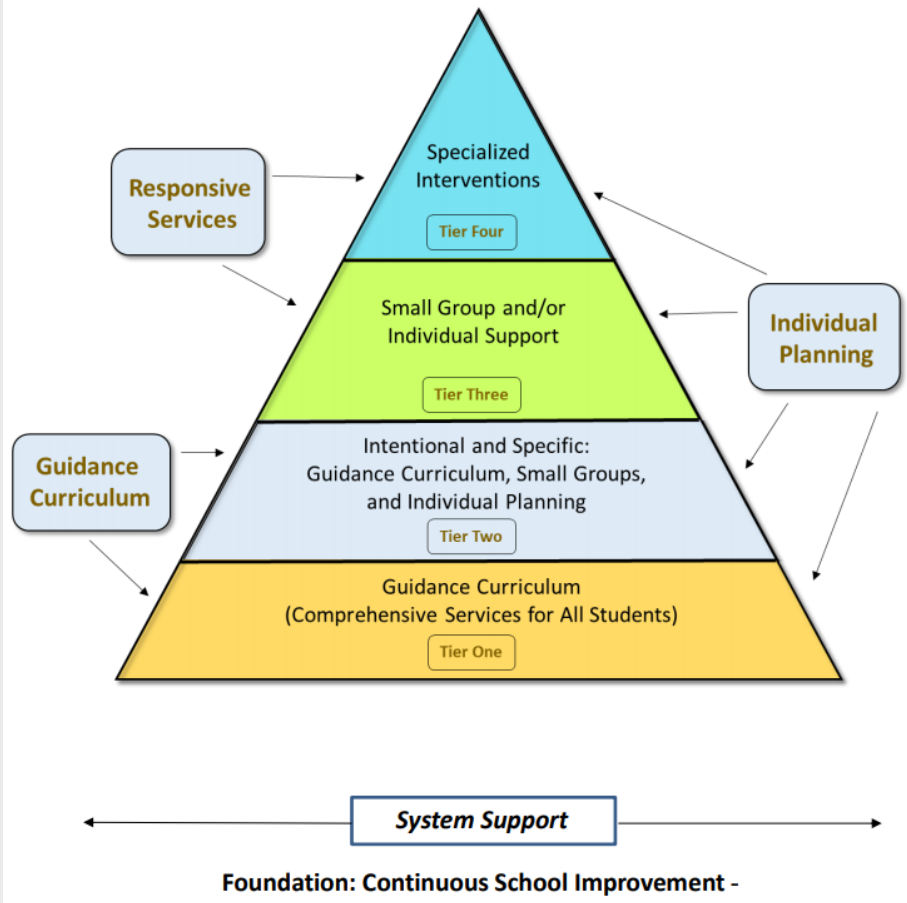

- Incorporation of wellness practices into daily living
- Demonstration of resiliency and positive coping skills
- Possession of assertiveness skills necessary for personal protection

The school counseling pyramid for comprehensive and direct services is driven by school improvement and depicts methods and approaches to delivering direct services for 100% of the students. The school counseling pyramid is designed to provide equity and access for all students.

Tier 1: Guidance Curriculum where all students receive access to information and learn skills at their developmental levels to address each of the four content areas above.

Tier 2: Increased direct, specific, and intentional services provided through guidance curriculum, various-sized groups, and individual planning. Students receive services via intentional guidance activities that are developed to assist them to reach the same level of performance in the student competencies listed above as the majority of students.

The School Counseling Pyramid for Comprehensive and Direct Services

Tier 3: Direct services delivered through small group and/or individual level to identified students who require specialized school counseling interventions. Services are response (preventative, remedial, crisis) and are not necessarily pertinent to the entire student population.

Tier 4: Individual counseling interventions to a specific student. School counselor services in this tier are provided until the student's needs exceed the duties or competencies of the school counselor. At this point, school counselors use referral to other district or community services to address the student's needs.

Program Rationale

Defining why the program is needed

Compelling empirical evidence demonstrates the positive impact a comprehensive school counseling program has on the overall academic achievement of students, their attendance, and behavior as well as the overall school climate (The Texas Model for Comprehensive School Counseling Programs, pg. 11).

Program Assumptions for Conditions & Resources

Defining the basic conditions and resources needed for the program

For effective implementation of the comprehensive school counseling program to occur, certain programmatic conditions must exist and resources must be allocated.

Conditions:

- The minimum level school counseling program provides for each of the four delivery system components and employs.
- The school counseling program employs a professionally certified school counselor(s).
- All students, parents, teachers, and other recipients of the school counseling program have equal access to the program regardless of gender, gender identity, sexual orientation, race, ethnicity, cultural background, religious or spiritual preference, disability, socioeconomic status, learning ability level, or native language.
- Parents will be full partners with educators in the education of their children (TEC Chapter 26).
- The conditions required for effective school counseling program implementation include a positive work environment; administrative commitment to the support of the school counseling program; and an adequate budget and school counseling materials.
- School administrators understand and support the school counseling program's priorities and its demands. Administrators make decisions and establish policies and procedures considering this understanding.

Resources:

- Staff: Sufficient attention is given to staff in order to best support the appropriate implementation of the program.
- Program & Staff Development: Time and opportunity are provided for designing and evaluating the program; relevant training is available.
- Budget: An adequate budget is established to support program needs and goals.
- Materials, Supplies, and Equipment: The School counselor has the items necessary to support the development and implementation of the program.
- Facilities: The facilities accessible to the school counselor are sufficient and appropriate.

Program NeedsDetermining student needs

Based upon staff needs assessments, our three greatest areas of need are in emotional regulation recognition/skills in students, developing social and character skills within students, and supporting student academic achievement.

Program GoalsAssigning intention, meaning and, and direction to program activities

1. By the end of the 2023 school year, the reported incidences (thru office/counselor referrals) of students experiencing dysregulation (to the point where they must leave the classroom for disciplinary purposes or cool down with counselor) would decrease by 25%.
2. By the end of the 2023 school year, teacher reported classroom behavior management issues related to conflict resolution or ineffective communication skills will decrease by 25%.

3. By the end of the 2023 school year, students with a positive mindset about their classwork and academic abilities will increase by 25% as indicated by a change from the beginning of the year student perceptions survey to the end of the year student perceptions survey.
4. By the end of the 2023 school year, students will demonstrate an intrinsic motivation to achieve self-set goals and higher expectations by tracking their own success and receiving fewer extrinsic motivators.
